2. QUESTIONS/ANSWERS

1.	Should the required bulleted information shown under Cover Page: Introduction be included directly on the cover itself? Or can we have a separate cover and then an introductory cover letter that follows on the next page that includes the bulleted information? The RFP states the Cover Page: Introduction does not count towards the page restriction. How many pages then can the combined cover and introductory letter be?
Answer	You may have a separate cover and introductory cover letter that follows that includes the cover page introduction bulleted information. Please limit the separate cover and introductory cover letter to two (2) pages (one (1) page cover, one (1) page introductory letter).
2.	May we include a back cover? If so, will the back cover count towards the 5-page limit?
Answer	You may include a back cover; it will not count towards the page limit.
3.	May we include a table of contents? If so, will the table of contents count towards the 5-page limit?
Answer	You may include a table of contents; it will not count towards the page limit. Please keep table of contents to one (1) page.
4.	Does firm and individual licensure count toward the page limit?
Answer	Resumes and licensures are not included within page restrictions, but should be limited to one (1) page per person.
5.	The RFP states that more than one section is permitted on one page unless otherwise indicated below. How can we combine sections when page tabs/section dividers are required?
Answer	You may reference (label) two sections on a tab/section divider if needed. Otherwise, separate each tab with said section labeled appropriately.

6.	The RFP states that undesignated information shall be inserted at the rear of each package. May we include an appendix? Will this information count towards the page limit?
Answer	Additional details and documents found within submittal package, although not located within tabs as listed above, may be reviewed, and considered by evaluation committee when scoring Proposers. Said additional details and documents will not count towards the page restrictions.
