Sunday afternoon update from Lee County Parks & Recreation: Rec Camp

Lee County Parks & Recreation's free Rec Camp for 6- to 13-year-olds the week of Sept. 18 has reached capacity at one site and has limited space available at a second site.

The Matlacha Park site is now full. Walk-ins are welcome Monday morning at the Wa-Ke Hatchee Recreation Center in south Fort Myers, but spaces are limited.

Parks & Recreation is planning Rec Camp at additional locations this week, as facilities have power restored and more buildings become available.

Check online at www.leeparks.org or www.leeec.com. City residents can also check with their municipalities, many of which are also hosting camps for children out of school due to Hurricane Irma.
