Message from first responders in Lee County:

Lee County-based law enforcement, fire and rescue and EMS understand it may appear as if the effects of Hurricane Irma are diminishing. But first responders continue to work with Lee County Emergency Operations and the National Weather Service to monitor conditions. When it is safe for them to respond to 911 calls and be on the roads, they will do so immediately.